Agenda Item 3:

Since the college will be autonomous from the next academic year 2019-2020, Shri Sunil Mantri, QAC member suggested that the college should be careful while implementing autonomy. He said that the evaluation pattern will determine the changes in the syllabus. He further added that small changes can be made. The teachers need to be oriented about the credit system and the credit based choice system, which needs to be implemented gradually. Shri Mantri also said that it is necessary to consider student's feedback before changes are made to the syllabus. The feedback can reveal what students want to learn and such topics can be included in the syllabus.
